Where is your practice right now?

The Lightworker Coach®
Helping those who help others

Most healers running their own practice are at one of five stages. None of them is wrong, and every one has a next step. This page will help you see where you are today, and what that next gentle step might be.

How to use it: find a quiet ten minutes. Tick every statement that feels true for you, without thinking too long. Then count the ticks in each section. The section with the most ticks is probably where you are now. It's very common to see yourself in more than one.

1 Thinking about starting

- ☐ I have a gift or a training, but I haven't started charging for it yet.
- ☐ I worry whether people would really pay me.
- ☐ I'm not sure where my first clients would come from.

My ticks: _____

YOUR NEXT GENTLE STEP

Start with the people already coming to you for help. Offer a few sessions at a fair price and ask for honest feedback. Your first clients are often closer than you think.

2 A small, loyal circle of clients

- ☐ Most of my clients come through word of mouth.
- ☐ My clients love what I do, but my income hasn't grown for a while.
- ☐ I haven't reviewed my prices for over a year.

My ticks: _____

YOUR NEXT GENTLE STEP

Thank your loyal clients and ask each one to tell a friend about you. Then review your prices: a small rise for new clients is a kind place to start.

3 Built it, waiting for them to come

- ☐ I've set up a website, a room or a social media page, but enquiries are few.
- ☐ I hoped people would find me once I was ready.
- ☐ I feel uncomfortable talking about what I offer.

My ticks: _____

YOUR NEXT GENTLE STEP

Choose one place where the people you help already gather, online or in person. Show up there every week and share something useful.

4 Two years in, still not covering costs

- ☐ I've been practising for two years or more.
- ☐ After rent, travel, laundry, oils and creams, there's very little left.
- ☐ I sometimes wonder whether I should give up.

My ticks: _____

YOUR NEXT GENTLE STEP

Write down every cost for one month, so you know your true numbers. Then look for one quick win: a package of sessions, a small price rise, or a group session.

5 Worn out from trading time for money

- ☐ My diary is full, but I'm exhausted.
- ☐ If I stop working, the money stops.
- ☐ I give so much that there's little left for me.

My ticks: _____

YOUR NEXT GENTLE STEP

Think "one to many". A group session, a workshop or a course lets you help more people without adding more hours to your week.
